GOURI

What is Gouri?

The world's first fully liquid type PCL injectable, Gouri is a new type of anti-ageing treatment which uses patented technology to lift, smooth, and replenish lost volume in the skin through stimulating the production of collagen.

GOURI is the 1st liquid type PCL(Polycaprolactone) injectable. GOURI rejuvenates our skin through the collagenesis on the entire face.

Those features make GOURI a fundamental anti-aging product.

- Spreadability: GOURI naturally spreads and regenerates collagen on the entire face.
- Sustainability: GOURI gives sustainable results preventing skin aging through deep skin rejuvenation.
- Natural improvement: GOURI restores the collagen synthesis rate which has decreased due to skin aging and rejuvenates the skin.

Restores The Collagen Synthesis

Unlike existing fillers, GOURI doesn't have microparticles inside it. It's completely solubilised. As a result, GOURI spreads very easily to the surrounding areas. Plus, GOURI is suitable to use for both doctors and patients, because it stimulates collagen synthesis across the entire face from only 10 injection points. Also, it reduces side effects related to micro-particles, such as vascular compression and necrosis, granuloma formation, and skin discolouration. Furthermore, GOURI is very compatible with other aesthetic injectables like toxin and other skin boosters.

GOURI is a new type of injectable that overcomes many limitations that we have faced on the non-surgical medical aesthetic market for a long time.

Using CESABP technology, DEXLEVO's patented technology, GOURI, restores the collagen synthesis that has decreased due to skin-ageing. As a result, the comprehensive condition of the skin is improved giving the look of a complete face 'lift'. This is real fundamental anti-ageing.
